

RED THE DOG

Red was Frank's dog. Frank had had Red for nine [north/ years/ could]. Red was a female dog that [tan/ had/ rug] never had puppies because Frank's mom [didn't/ there/ front] want to have any more dogs in [the/ cat/ dip] house.

Frank loved his dog because [upon/ when/ gray] you saw Frank, Red was usually somewhere [arrange/ around/ boards]. They would go swimming together. Red [was/ set/ own] fun to watch swim. Most dogs [rules/ would/ poppy] just dog paddle. But not Red. [She/ Won/ Aim] would slap her front paws on [him/ top/ boy] of the water and make big [splashes/ buckskin/ directed] in her face. She would make [apron/ funny/ stomp] faces and noises as the water [was/ pet/ say] splashing in her face.

Red was [pencils/ grocery/ getting] old and had gray around her [nose/ mill/ home]. She could still run fast but [was/ sat/ two] beginning to put on weight. Frank [salts/ tried/ pipes] to walk her at least twice [I/ a/ is] day, but some days only walked Red [page/ drum/ once].

Red loved to run up to [expect/ people/ wiggle] to see how they would react. [Invite/ People/ Golden] who liked dogs would bend over [her/ bed/ and] pet Red. People who hated dogs [joins/ would/ among] act scared and Red would bark [he/ at/ so] them. Red never bit anyone but [some/ upon/ hose] people thought she might.

One day Frank [all/ and/ law] Red were walking in a park [kept/ brad/ near] their house. Frank never kept Red [we/ on/ do] a leash because Red would usually [come/ noon/ feet] when he called her. Red saw [I/ a/ up] person with a bright red blouse [so/ on/ if] and decided to go and investigate. Red [ran/ had/ sag] up to the person to see [who/ the/ for] she was. The person obviously was [tunnel/ twelve/ afraid] of Red because she ran towards [her/ jet/ all] truck. Red ran after her thinking [hit/ out/ the] person wanted to play.

The woman [dim/ fry/ got] into her truck. She started the [drift/ truck/ brick], moving out of the park while [heading/ prepare/ peddler] right toward Red. The woman hit Red [and/ not/ dad] sped out of the park. Frank [bananas/ watched/ handful] everything helplessly. He couldn't believe his [your/ eyes/ over].

With quick thinking, he ran home [and/ hat/ all] got his mom. They called the [vet/ see/ run] and told him that Red had [stem/ wipe/ been] hit by a truck and they [crack/ would/ scary] be there in five minutes. Frank [you/ wet/ and] his mom sped in their car [in/ no/ to] the park and got Red. She [jam/ was/ for] bleeding from her mouth and her [sold/ hind/ moon] leg.

After delivering Red to the [sat/ bun/ vet], Frank and his mom waited and [tunnel/ golden/ waited]. The vet came out and said Red [lip/ was/ pop] fine but that she would have [my/ up/ to] stay at home to heal her [scrubs/ broken/ giving] leg and cut lip.

Frank was [taste/ queen/ happy] Red was not seriously injured. He [decided/ bundles/ harbor] that day he would find the [during/ pencil/ person] who tried to kill his dog [hot/ and/ tag] bring her to justice.
